"Our deepest fear is not that we are inadequate. Our deepest fear is that we are powerful beyond measure. It is our light, not our darkness that most frightens us. We ask ourselves, 'Who am I to be brilliant, gorgeous, talented, fabulous?' Actually, who are you not to be? You are a child of God. Your playing small does not serve the world. There is nothing enlightened about shrinking so that other people won't feel insecure around you. We are all meant to shine, as children do. We were born to make manifest the glory of God that is within us. It's not just in some of us; it's in everyone. And as we let our own light shine, we unconsciously give other people permission to do the same. As we are liberated from our own fear, our presence automatically liberates others."

by Marianne Williamson

My portfolio site will serve as a central hub for my work as a multi-faceted designer. It will provide a cohesive look at my projects, allowing potential employers, collaborators, investors, and the general public to understand my approach to design.

The site will highlight my creative vision, my ability to blend disciplines, and my passion for redesigning prisons, schools, and public housing to be more inclusive and human-centered.

The goal is to create a clean, engaging, and interactive experience that allows visitors to easily navigate my work while getting a sense of what it would be like to collaborate with me.
